Absolute Raid Bot: User Guide

Version 1.0.6 · for raiders · Absolute Gaming LLC

Your guild keeps its DKP in Absolute Raid Bot on Discord. This guide shows you how to register your character and look up your DKP. Everything is done with `/dkp` commands in your guild's Discord. Most answers are shown only to you.

1. How DKP works in your guild

- You earn DKP for being at raids: an amount per raid night, and in some guilds per boss kill. Type `/dkp help` to see your guild's numbers.
- You spend DKP on loot. In game, the raid leader runs Absolute Raid Management and you bid with Absolute Raid Companion (or a whisper to the raid leader).
- Bids are sealed: only the raid leader sees the amounts. The highest bid wins (the earliest on a tie), and only the winner hears the price.
- The bot keeps the book between raids. After each raid an officer imports what happened, and your balance updates.

2. Register your character

Step-by-step registration and what to do if you lose your Discord account: Raider Registration and Account Recovery.

/dkp register character: Brannoc-Stormrage class: Warrior

- Use your character's name, or Name-Realm if it's on another realm. The class is optional but makes the standings look right.
- Most guilds have an officer approve each registration. You'll see waiting until they do.
- Already raided before registering? Your character is probably in the book already. Registering claims it and keeps all its DKP.
- Alts: register each character the same way. `/dkp me` shows them all.

3. Your commands

Command	What it shows	Who sees it
`/dkp register character: Name class: Class`	Registers (or claims) a character	Only you
`/dkp me`	Each of your characters' DKP and their last 5 changes	Only you
`/dkp check character: Name`	Any character's DKP	Only you
`/dkp standings`	The guild's standings with attendance (`top:` 5 to 60, default 25)	The channel
`/dkp history character: Name`	A character's DKP history (`count:` 5 to 40, default 15)	Only you
`/dkp loot item: 19019`	An item from Wowhead, and who in the guild won it and for how much. Use the item's ID, or part of a name the bot has seen. `game:` WoW Forever or Retail	Only you
`/dkp raidloot source: Kel'Thuzad`	A boss or raid's loot list, if your officers have loaded it	Only you

Command	What it shows	Who sees it
`/dkp help`	Your guild's DKP rules and the commands	Only you

The item ID is the number in an item's Wowhead address, for example `wowhead.com/item=19019`.

4. In game with Absolute Raid Companion

Install Absolute Raid Companion (CurseForge or absolutegaming.store) to:

- see your DKP live during the raid, updated after every award and charge
- reserve loot and bid privately from your own window
- answer the raid leader's presence checks automatically, which some guilds require for raid DKP

Without it you can still bid by whispering the raid leader a number.

5. Questions

Question	Answer
I made a new Discord account	Ask an officer to move your characters to it (`/dkpmanage link-character`). Your DKP comes with them.
My DKP looks wrong	`/dkp history character: Name` shows every change and why. Ask an officer: every officer change is logged with a reason and can't be erased.
My registration is still waiting	An officer needs to approve it.
"No character called ..."	Check the spelling, or add the realm: `Name-Realm`.
I can't see `/dkpadmin` or `/dkpmanage`	Those are for officers only.
I got no DKP for a raid	Your guild may pay raid DKP only to raiders whose Raid Companion answered a presence check. Install Raid Companion and keep it running in raids.
